Solution Architecture:

Solution architecture is a complex process – with many sub-processes – helps in solving their health issues. Its goals are to:

- The customer has to feel comfortable in sharing their problem to the application.
- As the application has key features in software for collecting their information and providing solution.
- The solution is given in the chat bot and the issues of customer can be cured.
- Provide specifications according to which the solution is defined, managed, and delivered.
